Stony Brook University's Volunteers Around the World Medical Outreach: We are a volunteer organization seeking motivated students to join our team and help some of the most poverty-stricken regions in the world. This summer, we will be traveling to the Dominican Republic from July 12 - 25 and Peru from August 1 - 15. Our focus is to work alongside healthcare professionals and strengthen local communities by providing them with health education, nutritional security, and access to medical care. Volunteers can look forward to gaining direct patient contact experience, medical knowledge, and skills such as CPR and suturing. Also, volunteers are encouraged to explore the country with a multitude of optional activities such as paragliding, rafting, hiking, exploring the city and beaches, and more!

Our Application is now open and can be accessed here: <https://tinyurl.com/VAW2018app>

Bard College Master of Arts in Teaching Program: The Bard MAT is seeking students who are passionate about studying biology because we believe that great teachers have a solid foundation in the subject matter they teach. The curriculum of our program gives equal weight to graduate study in biology and education. At the same time, our students spend the better part of the year learning to teach with the guidance of Bard supervisors and mentor teachers in public schools in the Hudson Valley. It's an intensive but supportive program, and we've been successful--our students get jobs and stay in education.

The application deadline for summer admission is April 30.

More info about application requirements as well as a link to the online application portal can be found here.
