

CIE 2017 Faculty Career Month

The purpose of this series is to discuss a wide variety of topics related to pursuing a faculty career.
Location: Center for Inclusive Education, 2401 Computer Science Building – RSVP HERE

APRIL 13

Interviewing & Negotiating

12:30-2:00pm
Lunch

Interviewing and negotiating may be the most difficult aspects of a faculty job search process. Hear from an interdisciplinary panel of faculty who will prepare you by sharing best practices and coaching you on negotiating salary, teaching load, lab space, etc.

Speakers:

Tracey Walters, PhD
Associate Professor of Literature and Chair of the Department of Africana Studies

Julia Bear, PhD
Assistant Professor of Management College of Business

Aaron Neiman, PhD
Associate Professor Department of Biochemistry and Cell Biology

APRIL 18

Networking Social

4:30-6:00pm
Refreshments & Cash Bar

Learn how to successfully navigate social settings - whether you are at a conference or on a job interview. After a brief presentation on social networking etiquette, you will have the chance to practice with multiple faculty and receive helpful feedback.

Speakers:

Alfreda S. James, PhD
Assistant Director of Graduate and Postdoctoral Career Services

FACULTY

- Miguel Garcia-Diaz, PhD, Director of the Molecular and Cellular Pharmacology Graduate Program and Associate Professor, Pharmacological Sciences
- Benjamin Martin, PhD, Assistant Professor, Biochemistry and Cell Biology
- David Matus, PhD, Assistant Professor, Biochemistry and Cell Biology
- Arthur Samuel, PhD, Chair of the Department of Psychology and Professor, Cognitive Science
- Stella E. Tsirka, PhD, Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs and Professor, Pharmacological Sciences

...and many more!

Location

Simons Center for Geometry & Physics Lobby

APRIL 27

CIE Alumni Faculty Panel

12:30-2:00pm
Lunch

Reconnect with Center for Inclusive Education alumni who have moved on to faculty positions at a variety of institutions. They are excited to return to the CIE and share lessons learned as early career faculty members.

Speakers:

Javier Monzón, PhD
Assistant Professor Department of Biology, Pepperdine University

Tracy L. Callender, PhD
Assistant Professor Department of Biology, LIU - Post

Gretchen Lopez-Hernandez, PhD
Assistant Professor of Pharmacology/Microbiology Kansas City University of Medicine and Biosciences