

HACKING A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

[hack@CEWIT]

MARCH 3–5, 2023 • CEWIT

IoT, Healthcare, Energy and Sustainability,
Defense Technology and Cybersecurity

Hack@CEWIT will hold its 7th annual event in-person on March 3–5, 2023 following two years of hosting Hack@CEWIT virtually due to COVID. More than 300 students from across the U.S. will be participating in a 44-hour hackathon run by the Center of Excellence in Wireless and Information Technology (CEWIT) at Stony Brook University.

PARTNER WITH US

Leverage student brainpower to build a quick and effective prototype of a new product, explore unique and cutting-edge interpretations of pre-existing technology and drive targeted, company-specific innovations in IoT, healthcare, energy and sustainability, cybersecurity and defense technology.

Raise your brand recognition, allow students to explore your product's potential and recruit prospective talents from across the U.S. by supporting Hack@CEWIT 2023.

Stony Brook University

Stony Brook University — New York's flagship university and No. 1 public university — is going far beyond the expectations of today's public universities. It is part of the State University of New York (SUNY) system. With nearly 26,000 students, more than 2,800 faculty members, more than 200,000 alumni, a premier academic health center and 18 NCAA Division I athletic programs, Stony Brook is a research-intensive distinguished center of innovation dedicated to addressing the world's biggest challenges.

Major League Hacking (MLH) is the official student hackathon league. Each year, it powers over 200 weekend-long invention competitions that inspire innovation, cultivate communities and teach computer science skills to more than 65,000 students around the world. MLH is an engaged and passionate maker community, consisting of the next generation of technology leaders and entrepreneurs.
